Call Instrument Design To Daunt Nations Not Accepting U. S. 'Heel'

BY EDDY GILMORE MOSCOW, April 1-(AP)-Russia today assailed the North Atlantic pact as an offensive instrument designed to daunt nations which refuse to accept Anglo-American world domination.

An acid Soviet memorandum to the seven nations which originally sponsored the pact charged it vio-lates international agreements and undermines "the very foundations" of the United Nations.

The note described the pact as "directed against the Soviet Un-ion" and as being "openly aggressive" in character.

It has "nothing in common either with the tasks of self-defense of the parties to the treaty or with the real recognition of the aims and principles of the United Nations Organization," the memorandum charged.

The pact, the note asserted, violates existing treaties between Britain and Russia, France and Russia and the Potsdam and Yalta agreements.
Russia, the memorandum proclaimed, "does not intend to attack anyone."

The memorandum was announced by the official Soviet news agency Tass. It went to the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, Canada, the Netherlands and Luxembourg the original sponsors. Soviet ambassadors in the seven countries handed the memorandum to each government. Pointing to the exclusion of the Soviet Union from the treaty, the memorandum said that circumstance "can be explained only by the fact this treaty is directed against the U. S. S. R. as well as against the countries of the people's democracy (other Communist na

Plenty of Experts

President Truman's opinion is that taxes should be raised $4,000,000,000. This is to cover what he says will be a deficit of at least that amount in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The opinion of certain congressmen is that if there's going to be a $4,000,000,000 deficit the thing to do is cut the spending rate on a $42,000,000,000 budget by 10 percent.

Each side has its experts—experts being available to back up almost any point of view in this country. But it's Mr. Truman's experts who are on the hottest spot right now because they're at odds with the bulk of public opinion on the matter of taxes.

Taxes in the United States are exorbitantly high as they are. Any increase would be a gross imposition, and that's not a matter for experts to decide but a matter for taxpayers.

Experts are advising the White House that taxpayers should be soaked again and again; that it is impossible for the government to shave four billions off its budget; that the only alternative to boosting taxes is to go into the red are out of touch

Millions of Americans are shaving budgets. They have no choice. They can't pass a law to boost their incomes, and they don't dare get into deficit financing." If Mr. Truman needs an expert who will tell him that a tax increase added to the highest wartime taxes in peacetime history would be nonsense, all he has to do is pick up the telephone and call any one of umpsteen millions of his fellow citizens.

Eggs, Tomatoes, Rocks, Etc.

Ernest Bevin, British foreign minister, is entitled to an explanation for the shameful behavior of a mob which threw eggs and tomatoes at his automobile when he was leaving the dock in New York this week. Bevin was here as the guest of this government, to sign the North Atlantic treaty. Nine other foreign ministers have come to the United States for the same purpose.

The explanation, aside from whatever apology may have been made by official sources, is that some Americans have trouble remembering they are no longer Europeans. They become so preoccupied with hates and grudges transplanted from the old world that they forget their primary responsibility is to the new world in which they are living. Thus, in the case of Mr. Beyin, they put their feelings about Israel ahead of their obligations as Americans.

This is a dangerous behavior pattern in the United States. It has caused complications and confusions which should have been spared this country. The right of expression is guaranteed to all U. S. citizens, short of advocacy of treason and violence. But the guarantee does not include throwing eggs and tomatoes at visiting officials. Those who choose to express themselves like that convey only one thought. That they have not yet learned how to behave in a free

Scene II: 15 Months Later

The new rent control law is a typical product of government by compromise. Those who thought the federal government should regiment property owners indefinitely clashed headlong with those who thought the government had regimented property owners too long. They split a few differences, patched up a bill, hustled it through the legislative mill—and postponed the real decision | a son born March 31 at City hospital. on rent control for 15 months.

On the assumption that the patchwork bill will work no better and may not work as well as the one it replaces, it is interesting to speculate on the outcome of the rent control argument when it's renewed in 1950—the year of the next congressional election.

The balance of logic then as now will favor those who think rent control should be abandoned. In 1950, the war will have been over five years. All other price controls will have been abandoned. It will be even plainer than it is now that property owners have drifted into a curious status of second-class economic citizenship through the manipulation of politicians.

The hard fact is that rent control in peacetime is the assence of politics. There are more renters than owners. There never has been a time in history when renters would not have curbed owners if they could have done so without jeopardizing their privilege of shelter. Rent control has given them a chance through a working alliance with politicians

Things should be real lively in the rent-control issue in 1950 even livelier than they were in 1949. It's untikely there will be any cooling off in the battle to determine whether the United States is going to follow Europe into statism or veer back to its traditional pattern of competitive enterprise.

Alcoholism May Be Cured By New 'Hangover' Drug

Danish doctors reported today that a new drug which causes "premature hangover" shows promise as a treatment for alcoholism.

It works on the principle of making the patient sick every time he takes a drink, the doctors said, so that eventually he may stop drink-

Drs. Erik Jacobsen and O. Martensen-Larsen reported on their use of the drug in the American Med-ical association's journal. They are connected with the biological labratories, Medicinal Co. Ltd., and the Flakvad sanatorium for alcoholics, Rungsted Kryst, Denmark.

FORECAST HOUSE MOVE ON T-H BILL

Administration Supporter Believes Labor Bill Will Be Out Soon

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

WASHINGTON, April 1-(INS)-Administration supporters today forecast house actions on the Taft-Hartley repeal bill before the Easter recess despite a rules committee "filibuster" against the measure.

Chairman Lesinski (D) of Michigan, of the house labor committee, said he did not expect the delaying tactics of Republicans and Southern Democrats on the rules group to

The former Ohio State university head football coach and more recent Buckeye backfield tutor, re-fused to go off the deep end on the Athens situation.

"We don't have too much backfield," he said, "but the overall picture isn't too crab. We're not too heavy either, but the kids have a lot of spirit and we're having a lot of fun."

Widdoes made his comments at a press luncheon here yesterday. It was his first official visit since he took over his new post after seven years at Ohio State.

The quiet, balding Widdoes parried a question about how it felt to be head coach again.

"Well, I guess I am the boss, at that," he answered. "But we're not looking at it that way," he continued. "Brink (Howard Brinker, line coach and former Steubenville High school mentor) and I are partners in this thing. Kinda co-coaches, I

The Ohio conference Bob Cats will open the season against West Virginia Sept. 27, a came which worries Widdoes a little.

"That one looks a little rugged. Maybe we'll start counting our season with the second game," he said. The next contest is with Western Michigan, Oct. 8.

He said he would consider it a "successful season" if Ohio U. wins five and loses four. He expected the battle for the conference top spot to be between Sid Gillman's University of Cincinnati team and Miami under the tuteledge of "Woody" Hayes.

He said if his team fails to do well this fall, it will grow stronger as the years go by because he has a lot of young talent developing.

Brinker agreed with this in verse. "Maybe not so fine in '49, But a nifty one in '51."

The above map shows nations which will sign the North Atlantic Security Pact, as well as those invited to join. Portugal has protested the exclusion of Spain (1) on grounds that it weakens the pact and Portugal's own position. The treaty provides for a "security zone" extending from the Tropic of Cancer almost to the North Pole, including all of North America and extending eastward right up to the Iron Curtain.
